AMUSEMENTS.

ITALIAN OPERA-MILE. ANNA DE BELOCCA. rite dominions made her second appearance at the cademy of Music last evening, repeating her very lai-mted impersonation of Rosina in "Il Barbiere." She s one of those artists who win their way to popularity sy their very artlessness and simplicity of style in singing and acting. Her voice does full justice to the lorid music of the Swan of Pesaro, and her vivacity. ewitching smile and coquettish meaner were sufficient es to turn the head of any Almaviva. The seriturations to lurn the head of any Admirota. The ser-made by Gouned, the brindist "it segreto," from "Lu-rozis Hergin," and the "Ricci Waltz" wave introduced juring the opers by Mile de Belocca with marked of-fect. The Figaro of Signor Ferratii was a marked im-servement on his impersonation of Monday evening. Mr. Tom Karl as Count Almayiva. Signor Reihe as Irr. Bartolo and Signor Bardi as Don Rossilo were as un-maisfactory as before. The orchestra played the Brazilian national anthem when the Empress of Brazil and her suite entered the proseenium boxes reserved for them.

Next week the play will be brought out at the National Theatre, Washington, and it is said that the President has signified his desire to see it.

PORTRAIT OF SIMON BOLLVAR.

Mr. F. Duque, of No. 763 Broadway, has produced a ane lithographic portrait of General Simon Bolivar, "the Father of Five Republics"-New Granada, Ecuador, Venezuela, Peru and Bolivia. At the time when the journey of the Emperor attracts so much attention this portrait of the great Liberator of South America is appropriately produced. Dom Pedro and Bolivar have probably done more for that continent than any other two men in this century.

THE "FROG OPERA."

A New York audience has seldom if ever heard and ritnessed a finer display of wit and amateur acting tre last evening A full, fashionable and distinguished adience was gathered to listen to the "Frog Opers, ith a Pollywog Chorus," founded upon the nursery tale and old song of "A Frog He Would a Wooing Go." The opera-the "Frog Opera"-was one of those things must have been born in a brain possessing an munite fund of fun, for even the libretto was funny.

The "opera" was simply one of those delightful salor ntertainments which have long been known among New Yorkers, but better set and better acted. The opera" itself is a hodge-podge an olla podrida, a agundi and anything else that would go to make up a combination that would cause cultivated people to laugh. The first act was replete with brilliant jests, many comical parodies of popular airs and popular fallacies. Many of the selections in the second act called forth loud applause and the second act called forth loud applause and appreciation. The entire structure of the burietts would suggest a keen insight into the mysteries and the follies of the day, and in so far as it was thus interpreted certainly "The Queen Prog," whoever she was, acted with admirable apitinde.

The object of the "Frog Opera," which will be played again to-morrow evening, is to provide an endowment for Mount Vernon, that it may, as the last resting place of Washington, be properly prepared for inspection. The Mount Vernon Aid Society, at whose head in New York is Mrs. Algernon S. Sullivan, proposes a continue this species of social and unobtraive enertainment, and for that purpose have invited the flon. Charles Francis Adams to deliver an oration, which invitation, it is understood, he will accept, Among those present last evening were Chief Justice hay and lady, Theodore Roosevelt, General W. B. Il azen, Major Bundy, Algernon S. Sullivan and lady, Mr. Blake and Mr. Bell.

THE STATUE ON BEDLOE'S ISLAND.

Yesterday afternoon an informal meeting was held at the office of the Compagnie Générale Transatlantique, by Mr. Auguste D'Ouville, of the said company, and Mr. Adolt Salmon, of No. 14 White street, both members of the Union Franco-Americaine, at Paris, which is about placing on Bedloe's Island, in the har bor of New York, the colossal bronze statue of "Lib-srty Enlightening the World," the cost of which is 1,800,000 francs, and the height from the base of the pedestal 165 feet.

The gentlemen in question gave the HERALD reporter the following information:-It is understood in Paris that the United States, to make the affair truly inter. national, shall place the foundation of the monument. national, shall place the foundation of the monument. The cost will be about $30,000. In France the workmen all over the country have given their ten and twenty cents toward the cost of the editice. We want the Herald to help us in giving publicity to the matter, so that Americans can subscribe for the cost of the foundation. We hope that the subscription will be in smail sums. We will receive them, or they can be sent to Mr. Mennier, editor of the Courier des Estat Unix. The statue is a fraternal work, and will be a monument of the sympathy existing between the great republican nations in the centennial year of American independence. The foundation stone is to be laid on the Fourth of July, 1876. The following members of the committee are expected here by the 10th of June:—Ed. Laboulaye, President Director; Henri Martin. ST. GEORGE'S DAY.

St George's day falls on Sunday, April 23, and the St. George's Society have postponed their celebration until Monday evening, when a grand banquet will be given at Deimonico's. On Sunday there will be a special service in the Anglo-American Free Church of St. George the Martyr, corner of Prince and Thompson streets, at which Rev. Joseph H. Rylance, chaplain of St. George's Society, will preach the sermon.

Edmondson is a Police Commissioner, and it is leved that he exasted the sum of $400 from Autentiff for his indusce in securing for the latter the concetto remove dead animais from the city. DOLAN DOOMED.

GOVERNOR TILDEN DECLINES TO INTERPERE ON BEHALF OF THE CONDEMNED MAN.

morrow morning will be the last that John Dolan will spend upon earth. Hoping against hope, he did not lose courage yesterday, even when the news came that Governor Tilden bad declined to interfere with the course of the law on his behalf.

Early resterday moreing Dolan ate a hearty break-Albany. Some time after breakfast his mother, a poorfeeble old woman, whose face had a heart-broken expression, called to see her son, and the keepers and good natured Mark Finley stood as far off as they could from the cell of the condemed man. "Oh, John John," cried the stricken woman, "Surely, God will not let you be taken from me in this cruel and unjust way." Dolan endeavored to soothe his mother, as he Several kind hearted women called on the prisoner, and Rev. John Barry and the good Sixters of Mercy were assiduous in their consolations. A tail young woman, with a woollen dress and rather a flashy air, called to see Dolan and told him that she had news whom some of Dolan's friends accuse of the murder of Mr. Noe, had been traced and would soon be found. Dolan told the women to see his counsel, and then relapsed into a gloomy silence. At one o'clock there was consider ble bustle in the corridors of the prison, and a few able bustle in the corridors of the prison, and a few moments later Messrs. Howe and Hummell, counsel for Dolan, entered the corridor in which cell No. 4 is located. Mark Finley opened the cell door and asked Dolan to step out, as his counsel wished to see him. A title yellow Spitz dog followed Dolan out of the cell, as he will probably follow him out to-morrow marning—the last friend of the condemned to cling to him. A group of reporters, lawyers and prison officials gathered round the stove, by the side of which Dolan stood with an expression of irrimess on his face. His counsel, William F. Howe, said to him:—

"John, I am very much pained to tell you that after all our efforts in your behalf the Governor has declined to interfere in your case. It is a painful duty to me, but it is proper that I should give you early information."

DOLAN—I expected it.

Mr. Howe continued, "John, you know I have given the best attention I possibly could to your case and made every effort possible to save you."

DOLAN—"Yes, and I thank you."

DOLAN—"Yes, and I thank you."

Mr. Howe—I believe before God that you are innocent.

DoLAN—And after I am gone that fact will be shown—I think it will.

Mr. Howe—I think you had better prepare yourself to meet your God. The time is short. I have done all I could John, but I cannot give you the least encouragement for future hope.

DoLAN (firmly)—I am prepared. I have been expecting it, and I think I am ready to die. Where is Maggie? (his wife.) Send word to her that I want to see her at four o'clock to-day.

A pretty-faced young girl, half muffled in a shawl, named Maggie Casey, came forward with a spring and imprinted a passionate kiss on the lips of the doomed man. At this moment, in an autible tone, a sympathizer of Itolan's said, at the outside of the group around Dolan, "I didn't believe that Tilden would do anything for that poor devil. He's got to get the New York delegation at Uttea for St. Louis next Wednesday." The despatch to Dolan's counse! was handed to the condemned man. It stated that after a most

URGENT APPEAL FOR NERGY

Governor Tilden had declined to interfere with the execution of the sentence. Dolan held the despatch which centained his fate in his hands and the paper did not tremble in the sligntest. His lace had no bravado is it. He then went into his cell, the little yellow dog following him, and threw himself on the bed. He was quiet through the afternoon, and did not make any manifestation. He is waitched by the Deputy Sheriffs constantly.

The scaffold will be erected to-night and Dolan will have to listen to the hammering.

THE CORSET QUESTION.

The investigation as to the value of the German woven corsets now held for reappraisement was con-tinued yesterday at the public stores at Hubert and Washington streets. Mounting to the second floor of that uninviting pile yesterday afternoon, a Herald reporter found several alert officials who were showing amples of long corsets and short corsets, thin corsets and thick corsets, fit for the ample waists of Holland and thick corsets, at for the ample wasts of itoland fishwomen or to envelop the delicate busts of Parisi-ennes. The gentlemen thus favored were a number of experts, who had been summoned to decide for the government whether the glorious business of corset naking and corset selling should be monopolized by the German importers and manufacturers, or whether Uncle Sam's sons should take a hand in the agreeable the German importers and manifecturers, or whether Uncle Sam's sons should take a hand in the agreeable trade.

So entrancing appeared to be the examination yesterday to some of the experts that the Deputy Appraisers seemed to be infected with a wild sort of enthusiasm, and were running from office to office burdened with corests—specimens for the experts, specimens for General Ketchum, the Chief Appraiser; specimens for everybody. The reporter was asked if he was an expert and if he had been "summoned." but his modesty would not permit him to answer either question in the affirmative. Then the officials refused to give him any information, on the ground that all revelations before the Merchant Appraiser should be kept secret until the end of the investigation. The reporter learned, however, that Messrs. Fanton, of A. T. Stewart & Co.'s; Wild, formerly connected with that firm; M. Cohen, J. G. Fitzpatrick and Lyall, of the United States Corset Company, were among the experts that testified before the Merchant Appraiser. Mr. James M. Constable, of the Merchant Appraiser. Mr. James M. Constable, of the firm of Arnold & Constable, vesterday. The testimony was such that Mr. Constable was moved to regret that he had not been in the business of importing German woven corsets.

AN OLD CLAIM DECIDED.

Mr. William McKeag several years ago filed a claim against the city for payment of services rendered as attorney to the Excise Board from 1857 to 1860. It was not satisfied, and the efforts to procure its settlement

Finally Mr. McKeag assigned his claim to John H. Starin, Jr., son of the President of the Hoboken Land and Improvement Company, which, as contractor for the removal of dirt and as learge of ferries, for years has had a close relation to the city government. sued the city as assignee for McKeag for $453,800, the claim being based on the allegations that the assignor (McKeag) had commenced in the years named 14,915 suits in the interest of the city, for which 8,654 answers and appearances had been put in and 1,054 judgments in default entered, while 1,243 cases were put upon the calendar for trial. The city set up the defence that McKeag took the prosecution of the suits on speculation. The matter was by Judge Donohuo referred to D. C. Calvin, the present Surrogate, as referee, to take testimony and decide. Yesterday Judge Calvin entered judgment in the County Clerk's office in favor of Starin, as McKeag's assignee, for $380,224 66.

The following notice in the case was served upon the Comptroller yesterday afternoon. sued the city as assignee for McKeag for $453,800, the

FIRE IN SOUTH STREET.

About balf-past seven o'clock last night a fire broke Sherwood & Penfield, flour commission merchants. The rear building was a three story brick warehouse, used for storing flour, and was connected with No. 21 South street by a wooden shed one story high. It was almost in the centre of the block bounded by Front, Broad and South streets and Coenties slip. This difficult and South streets and Coenties slip. This difficult position necessitated the sending of a second alarm soon after the first. This brought eight engines and four trucks upon the scene. The building was filled with flour, piled in tiers, and the fire raged in the crevices between the different layers of varrels, making a dense smoke and rendering it extremely difficult to extinguish. The firement commenced playing upon the building from three sides of the block. About eleven o'clock the smoke had cleared sufficiently to allow men to be placed on the roof of the store, and the fire was soon after under control. It was still busting at an early hour this morning.

The water poured into the building from No. 35 Front sirect, ran back, filling the cellar of that store so full that when engine No. 32 was brought round to that sale of the fire, instead of attaching the hose to a hydrant, they threw a suction pipe little the cellar and commenced crawing thence the water that had been siready used. Messrs, Brush & Co., provision dealers, had a large stock of hams stored there, which were damaged about $1,000 by water. Messrs, Sherwood & Fenicid's loss on stock will probably not exceed $7,000. The building was not damaged over $1,000, as the walls and floors are still solid. Mark Shaw, ship chandler, of No. 27 Coenties sip, and Henry Hohns, No. 29, bad their premises slightly damaged by water.

NOT ARRESTED.

The report that Dr. Rudolph Mulki, of Union Hill, N. J., was arrested on a cherge of having accidentally polsoned a child was incorrect.
